An illustrated talk
The Anglo-Saxons and Normans - An enduring Legacy

By Nicholas Henderson, accredited lecturer of The Arts Society.

Nicholas is a graduate of Selwyn College, Cambridge, and has a wide experience of international matters. He has a particular interest in the period of the English Reformation and the associated cultural, architectural and social changes it has produced. He lectures regularly and currently works as a parish priest in West London.

An often forgotten and mysterious period in English history and architecture, but the legacy lingers and is with us visibly and linguistically to this day. An exploration into the great upheavals in society and community as reflected in architecture and cultural change that disrupted and formed two great English cultures.
